PATENT OFFICE NOTICES

STATUS OF RULE 69 PROPOSAL

This notice is in response to numerous inquiries received by the Patent Office relative to the status of the proposal, published at 37 F.R. 9225 on May 6, 1972 and at 899 O.G. 2 on June 6, 1972, to add a new section 1.69 to Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations.

All of the many written and oral comments received have been analyzed and are currently being studied. The analysis indicates that comments in favor of and against the principle of the rule were about evenly divided. Many comments expressed reservations concerning the language used. The "inconsistency" and "tend to give an impression" clauses drew the most criticism. The first clause was viewed as being too absolute, forcing the affiant or declarant to abdicate reasonable judgment concerning validity of seemingly inconsistent or maverick test results. The second clause was viewed as being too subjective or vague which would result in second guessing later. The additional burden on both applicants and examiners was also advanced as reason to change the proposed language.

In summary, the proposal is still under study with the view of developing a satisfactory way to accomplish the intent of the proposed rule.

S. WM. COCHRAN,
Solicitor.

ICIREPAT Numbers for Identification of Bibliographic Data on the First Page of Patent and Like Documents

The Paris Union Committee for International Cooperation in Information Retrieval Among Patent Offices (ICIREPAT) has recently approved revisions in INID Codes (ICIREPAT Numbers for Identification of Data) which become effective for use by the countries which apply such codes to their documents on January 1, 1973. A complete list of the Codes, as revised, appears below.

Changes in INID Codes which particularly affect their application to U.S. patents consist of the provision of the new codes [75] and [76] that are intended primarily for use by countries in which the national laws require that the inventor and applicant are normally the same. Use of the code [72] which was heretofore applied to U.S. patents will be discontinued and, in lieu thereof, codes [75] and [76], as appropriate, will be used effective with the patent issue of January 2, 1973.

The purpose of INID Codes is to provide a means whereby the various data appearing on the first page of patent and like documents can be identified without knowledge of the language used and the laws applied. They are now used by a number of Patent Offices and have been applied to U.S. patents since Aug. 4, 1970. Some of the codes are not pertinent to the documents of a particular country and some which are may, in fact, not be used. Those codes which are not applicable to U.S. patents or not used are identified in the list below.

[10] Document identification

- [11] Number of the document
- [19] ICIREPAT country code, or other identification, of the country publishing the document

[20] Domestic filing data

- [21] Number(s) assigned to the application(s), e.g. "Numero d'enregistrement national," "Aktenzeichen"
- [22] Date(s) of filing application(s)
- [23] Other date(s) of filing, including exhibition filing date and date of filing complete specification following provisional specification [1]

[30] Convention priority data [2]

- [31] Number(s) assigned to priority application(s)[1]
- [32] Date(s) of filing of priority application(s)[1]
- [33] Country (countries) in which priority application(s) was (were) filed [1]

[40] Date(s) of making available to the public

- [41] Date of making available to the public by viewing, or copying on request, an unexamined document, on which no grant has taken place on or before the said date [1]
- [42] Date of making available to the public by viewing, or copying on request, an examined document, on which no grant has taken place on or before the said date [1]
- [43] Date of publication by printing or similar process of an unexamined document, on which no grant has taken place on or before the said date [1]
- [44] Date of publication by printing or similar process of an examined document, on which no grant has taken place on or before the said date [1]
- [45] Date of publication by printing or similar process of a document, on which grant has taken place on or before the said date
- [46] Date of publication by printing or similar process of the claim(s) only of a document [1]
- [47] Date of making available to the public by viewing, or copying on request, a document on which grant has taken place on or before the said date [1]

[50] Technical information

- [51] International Patent Classification
- [52] Domestic or national classification
- [53] Universal Decimal Classification [1]
- [54] Title of the invention
- [55] Keywords [1]
- [56] List of prior art documents, if separate from descriptive text
- [57] Abstract or claim
- [58] Field of search

[60] Reference(s) to other legally related domestic document(s) [2]

- [61] Related by addition(s)[1]
- [62] Related by division(s)
- [63] Related by continuation(s)
- [64] Related by reissue(s)

[70] Identification of parties concerned with the document

- [71] Name(s) of applicant(s)[1]
- [72] Name(s) of inventor(s) if known to be such [1]
- [73] Name(s) of grantee(s)
- [74] Name(s) of attorney(s) or agent(s)[1]
- [75] Name(s) of inventor(s) who is(are) also applicant(s)
- [76] Name(s) of inventor(s) who is(are) also applicant(s) and grantee(s)

Codes [75] and [76] are intended primarily for use by countries in which the national laws require that the inventor and applicant are normally the same. In other cases [71] and [72] or [71], [72] and [73] should generally be used.

Notes concerning the application of INID Codes to U.S. patents:

[1] This item is either not applicable to U.S. patents or, if applicable, is either not coded or not assigned this code.

[2] The respective specific data elements within this category are not individually coded. They are printed in a particular format under the caption "Foreign Application Priority Data" which is identified by the INID Code [30].

[2] The specific data applicable to a particular patent is printed under the caption "Related U.S. Application Data." Where the relationship is due solely to division or to continuation and/or continuation-in-part, the data is identified by the appropriate specific INID Code, i.e., [62] or [63], respectively. Where the relationship is due to any combination of these two specific sub-categories, the data is identified by use of the generic INID Code [60].

Approved:

WILLIAM I. MERKIN,
Assistant Commissioner for Administration.
